SCHOOL AND ALUMNI NOTES

The following editorial from the Yale Daily News of May 8th is reprinted here in its entirety as being the best method of placing before the students and alumni of the Law School the present policy of the News with respect to the graduate departments of the University:

"In order to strengthen its policy of representing the entire University, the News has established an advisory board of graduate school students. This board will consist of five men, one from each of the graduate departments. Meetings will be held at regular intervals, when by discussing matters relating to each department, a community of interest may be attained. These men will occasionally attend meetings of the News Board and by talking over the different phases of University life in these joint meetings it is hoped that a closer relationship may come to exist between the graduate and undergraduate departments. Hours for meeting the heelers will be arranged. The members selected are all representative men and are in close touch with the life and conditions in their own departments. Thus much more news than has been brought in by the heelers from the graduate schools will be obtained. The method of perpetuating the graduate board is as yet undecided, but the choice of their successors will undoubtedly rest largely with the retiring members.

Most men in the graduate schools are there to study, and representation on the News Board for such men by the process now in vogue is quite impossible—hence the method adopted. The graduate advisory board is composed of the following men, and we feel confident that they will co-operate with us in making the News the mouth-piece of the University at large:

K. S. Latourette—Graduate School.

W. V. Griffin—Law School.

P. Titus—Medical School.

A. Leopold—Forestry School.

T. B. Lathrop—Divinity School."
